Two Best Practices

1. Title of the Practice : Abhinandan Yojana (Felicitation Programme)

2. Goal :

- To felicitated the meritorious students to encourage them for excellence and to create competitive atmosphere in the college.

3. The Context :

- Many times students of high potential remain unrecognized which ultimately affect their progress. But the cognizance by felicitating them increases their confidence and self awareness.

4. The Practice :

- The college has started to felicitate the meritorious students from the year 2002 on the Republic Day. Teaching, non-teaching and some superannuated teachers have sponsored the cash prizes in different subjects of their own choice for the students who score highest marks and who step to 1st merit in the college to the university examination (more than 60%). Those who have sponsored the cash prizes deposit money in the office. But those teachers who retired from the college service have given the amount which is deposited in the bank and the interest incurred on it is given to the students in addition to a certificate. As this function is organized on Republic Day it is attended by the management, sponcers, principal, teaching, non-teaching staff and big number of students, the recipients feel a great honour for them.

5. Evidence of Success :

- It has been observed that since the introduction of this practice our university examination results are also increase and there is a growth in the percentage of marks in various subjects.

6. Problems encountered and resources required :

- Exciting teachers have voluntarily responded to the call of the principal to start this scheme in the college. They sponsored cash prizes every year. But in the invent of the retirement of the teacher we have to persuade them for the continuation of their sponsorship.

1. Title of the Practice : Distribution of Dictionaries and allotment of one additional book from the library for other than academic purpose such as competitive examination and moral growth.

2. Goal :

➤ To the aim of this practice is to increase the classroom attendance and to create interest in teaching and learning process.

3. The Context :

➤ As the college is located in rural and tribal area, most of the students come from economically weaker section of the society and therefore their approach to education is very casual. It has been observed that majority of the students are consistently irregular which affects their academic progress. So to cope up with this issue we have been trying to provide this incentive to them.

4. The Practice :

➤ At the opening of the college the students are made aware of this scheme by circulating a notice in the classroom. In the first few months the students are asked to fill up the form and teachers have to give their recommendations as per their classroom attendance. For this incentive 75% attendance is compulsory. Those who fulfill this criteria are issued one dictionary and one additional book in addition to their regular allotment from the library. This practice has good response from the students.

5. Evidence of Success :

➤ From the introduction of this scheme the students response is better. It is noted that it has helped in improving the class room attendance and ultimately in improving our university examination results.

6. Problems encountered and resources required :

➤ Since ours is the only college at this tehsil place, students strength is consistently increasing and therefore the library staff is burdened with this additional work, particularly on the issue counter. However they extend their full co-operation in the interest of the student community. Dictionaries are purchase from the available fund of the college as per the requirement from time to time.
